President in Question.

With the question of who shall head With the question of who shall head the new company as president apparently ettled by the general understanding that the president will be William F. Ham, now president of the Washington Railway & Electric Co., with street car operation directly supervised by John H. Hanna, president of the Capital Traction Co., another major dispute was said to be in progress over who shall be chairman of the board of directors of the merged corporation. irectors of the merged corporation.
It was said that the Ham interests were opposed to seeing that post go to Harley P. Wilson, member of the boards of directors of the North American Co. and the Washington Eallway & Electric and the Washington Ballway & Electric Co.

Wilson denies emphatically that he is a candidate for president of the new corporation, but he has not said that he does not seek to be chairman of its board of directors.

Neither the question of who shall be president nor the one of who shall be chairman of the board will be dealt with in the merger agreement, nor will it be settled by the conference committee now holdin daily sessions. Both questions will finally be thrashed out it he board of directors of the new company, if a merger is brought to pass, or in stockholders' meetings.

Those who attended yesterday's conference were Wilson, Hamilton, Ham Hanna, Charles J. Bell, chairman of the board of directors of the Washington Railway and Electric Co.; S. R. Bowen, yeen president of that company. G.

White House.

More than 3,000 guests were received, and it was one of the largest receptions at the Executive Mansion this year. Thoroughly democratic in spirit, the atmosphere was one of comradeship and cordiality and all political lines were leveled in the common pleasure of greeting the Chief Executive of the Nation and the First Lady of the Land. As this was the first congressional reception since the convening of the Seventieth Congress, the scene was a novel one for many of the legislators who are serving their first terms on Capitol Hill.

For once Congress obeyed implicitly instructions from the White House and arrived at 9 o'clock punctually. In ample time before that hour was struck, however, from a stately old clock in the corridor, the blue room guests, made up for the most part of chairmen of important congressional committees and their wives and other special guests, had been escorted by adds to their places behind the line

The Government is suing to have the cafe adjudged a "nuisance" and to restrain the sale of ginger ale and cracked ice to patrons of the establishment. If the Government is declared ylotor in this case, similar action will probably be taken against all other night clubs and cafes in this city. Night club proprietors have pointed out that if they are refused the right to sell ginger ale and cracked ice they will be forced to close their establishments.

Five waiters employed in the cafe testified yesterday that they had seen patrons pour what appeared to be liquor from flasks and bottles at intervals during the past two years. In every case where they saw such an occurrence they told the guests that the management of the cafe did not allow any one to drink intoxicants in the establishment and requested that the hottles or flasks be put away, all of the waiters said.

Frank Horak, captain of waiters, said that he frequently had to request patrons of the cafe to stop drinking. In many instances when he made such a request he would be invited to take a drink, Horak said. He always refused and fainted. I gave her some baking soda and her escort helped her from

FRENCH SENATORS CHEER NEW TREATY WITH THIS COUNTRY

Briand Found No Hesitation Here in Seeking to Aid Peace, He Says.

U. S. OFFER TO EXTEND PACT CALLED GENEROUS

France Has Kept Promises in Rhineland, He Replies to Stresemann.

Parls, Feb. 2 (A.P.) .- The senate, pered by "the spirit of Locarno," cheered M. Briand, the foreign minister, today, when he announced that the sixth arbitration treaty negogtiated by France, in accord with the compromise pact with Germany, will probably be signed by France and the United States on or before February 6, on the occaon of the 150th anniversary of the treaty of alliance between Louis XVI and the revolting American colonies.

M. Briand, in replying to Gustav Stresemann, German foreign secretary, relative to the Rhineland occupation, remarked that the German minister was animated by conciliatory motives, was animated by conclinatory motives, but he noticed at Locarno that when-ever Herr Stresemann held out his hand, it seemed to be with the hope of pulling it back with something in it. "France has given all she promised," he declared. "It remains for Germany to carry out the promises she made."

Not Franco-German Question.

Not Franco-German Question.

The Rhineland question was not a Franco-German question, he contended, saying: "The occupation of the Rhineland was in pursuance of the Treaty of Versailles, shared in by our allies and associates. Eventual change in the present state of things is between all the allies and Germany.

"The situation results in part from the fact that the treatles signed with England and with the United States guaranteeing France on the Rhine failed of ratification."

M. Briand indicated plainly that

M. Briand indicated plainly that France was awaiting the outcome of the German elections to see whether the Locarno pact recilly was supported on the other side of the Rhine.

"Internal politics are bound to creep into international negotiations at a time when such important elections are pending," he said, "and the consequences of this year's voting to the relations of the peoples may be formidable."

Discussing the treaty negotiations tween France and the United States.

"The United States, in a most gen erous impulse, proposed to extend the outlawing of war treaty to other nations. The American government had certain reservations to make in con-sequence of its particular position France likewise was under obligations as a member of the League of Nations We see no reason why a country like

Will Rogers Says He Doesn't Choose to Run This Year

Special to The Washington Post. There was a piece in the paper this morning where somebody back home was seriously proposing me for President. Now, when that was done as a joke it was all right. But when it's done seriously it's just pathetic.

SOCIETY WOMEN MOB YORK WEDDING PARTY

Brother of Duchess Marries Miss Elizabeth Cator at Costume Ceremony.

London, Feb. 2 (A.P.).-English soclety, headed by the Duke and Duchess of York, assembled in force at St. George's, Hanover Square, today for the picturesque wedding of the duches; bridesmald and a lifelong friend, Elizabeth Cator, to the Hon. Michael Bowes-Lyon, brother of the Duchess of York.

The bride wore a plain ivory sating the Brides lace. She was at gown with Brussels lace. She was attended by four pages in highland dress and four bridesmaids in costumes of the Stuart period. Wedding presents included gifts from the queen and

Princess Mary. The wedding attracted thousands of women, most of them fur coated and fashionably attired, who packed all the streets leading to the church, perched on house balconies, clung to railings and struggled for good positions to see the bride and the royal wedding guests. A great rush was made when the duke and duchess appeared and the police pordons were broken three times, the oyal car being surrounded by the pobbles forced a passge to the church door. There was another joyfully tumultuous scene when the 'ride ar-rived and made her way into the final hearing for proponents of the resolution.

The principal witness yesterday was J. Ronald Horsey. of Baltimore, a member of the Maryland Legislature, who appeared on behalf of the National Council of State Legislatures, composed of the governing bodies of 43 States.

Declaring that Washingtonians are "subjects" rather than "citzens." Horsay said that the time was ripe for a change and he predicted that if the proposed constitutional amendment were submitted to the State legislatures it surely would be, ratified.

"In a few months millios of the American citizenry will go to the polisonce again to select a President." said Mr. Horsey. "For the United States a great day; to Washington it will be a day of shame and humiliation, serving to remind them that they not citizens in a true and real sense, but merely subjects inferior in political status to in a true and real sense, but merely subjects, inferior in political status to naturalized aliens in the States."

Representative Henry R. Rathbone (Republican), of Illinois, urged the committee to act favorably on the resolution.

committee to act favorably on the resolution.

"I regard this as a very important question," he said. "Judging from four years' experience on the House District committee, I believe it would be valuable to Congress to have representatives from the District."

Mrs. Belie Sherwin, president of the League of Women Voters, told the committee that her organization, representing women voters in 45 States, was strongly in favor of national representation for the District.

Theodore W. Noyes, chairman of the joint citizens' committee, directed the presentation of arguments before the judiciary committee. Among others who appeared were James G. Yaden, president of the Federation of Citizens Associations, and Jesse C. Suter, member of a special suffrage committee of the federation. Mr. Noyes explained that there were several more who wished to be heard on the resolution, and he was promised that they would be given a hearing after the opponents of the measure had had their innings.

ENDING OF RIVALRIES

Elimination of Overlapping and Competition Asked in Lausanne Report.

New York, Feb. 2 (A.P.) .- Elimination of needless overlapping and competition among churches in the inter-ests of Christian unity is recom-mended in the final report emanating from the World Conference on Fath and Order held at Lausanne, Switzer-land, last August. The report was made public today by a committee headed by Eishop Charles H. Brent, Episcopal, of Buffalo.

More effective cooperation among denominations in the foreign mission field and the willingness of all Christians to join "without regard to denominational differences" in the celebration of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper also are set forth as essentials of church unity.

"It is suggested that a common prayer be sent out in the name of the conference to be used "at a convenient time by all Christian churches. It closes with the words: "God give us, both as individuals and as churches, wisdom and courage to do His will." More effective cooperation among de

The flare-up in the Senate came when Senator Norris, of Nebraska, suggested that funds for maintenance of marines in Nicaragua be withheld. He was supported by Senators King, Utah, and Blaine, Wisconsin, King declaring he would introduce today a resolution requesting the right of the President to carry on "war in Nicaragua" without a declaration by the Congress. The "passing whims of the President and the Secretary of State" constitute the only policy the United States has, Blaine asserted.

Mr. Cosgrave's address was just one mart of a program of functions which did not include a meeting with Eamon of the Velera, Irish republican leader, who arrived in New York this morning. The political opponents indicated they did not expect to see each other, and as y far as today was concerned their expectations were fulfilled.

Mr. de Valera, concluding a visit to this country begun December 31 last, is to address a mass meeting at Mecca Temple Sunday night, when, it was announced today, a pronouncement of unusual importance will be made.

Asked whether he would call on Mr de Valera, President Cosgrave said:

"I don't think so. Ireland is a free Cossity and so is America. I am the head of a government should call on one of its citizens, do you?"

On the way the witness and prosecutor had their battles. Sometimes Stewart was almost benign with his expressions of "why bless your heart," but in almost the next breath he would bark back at the senator, telling him he wasn't interested in what "seems to be" or advising him that the committee wasn't interested. When he came to recount what happened in the Vanderbilt Hotel in New York, Stewart sat erect, face flushed, eyes flashing and his open fingers hammering the end of the table in emphasis of his words. His story was that when he got to New York City with the intention of trying to buy Humphreys oil, he was told by that operator that the Standard of Indiana could not have the oil; that it had been negotiated for by Henry M. Blackmer, chairman of the board of the Midwest, an Indiana Standard subsidiary, and other people.

It soon became evident that he did not propose to submit himself to such a gruelling without fighting back and once he started to make a threat to Walsh if the senator talked to him as he had to E. G. Seubert, president of the Indiana standard.

Delegate Wilbur C. Hall, of Loudoun, is patron of the bill in the house, while it was introduced in the senate by Senator Frank L. Ball, of Arlington County. Under the present law, motor vehicles operated in Virginia for compensation for more than 30 days consecutively are required to pay the same license fees as a Virginia-owned vehicle of similar character.

While the move will affect to some extent all borders of the State, Arlington and the District will benefit most by reciprocity, which now is in effect as regards private automobiles.

The legislative work moved along swiftly today, the senate passing the so-called "short ballot" resolution, providing an amendment to the constitution to allow the governor to appoint four officers now chosen by the electorate.

After more wrangling back and forth the prosecutor remarked that no doubt Stewart had "a good reason for signing that contract."

While the father of the defendant was on the stand he was cross-examined by Prosecutor Asa Keyes who drew from him the statement that before his wife some years ago was sent to an Arkansas asylum for a short period, ne had told the officials who committed her that he never had seen signs of insanity until she made the suicide attempt.

The father denied he believed his aileged relations with other women had caused the wife's unhappy condition. He admitted that when he left his family in 1920 he married again across the border in Northern Mexico.

To a shocked courtroom, details of the kidnaping, slaying and dismemberment of the body of Marian Parker, as confessed by Hickman, were repeated here today, and further light was thrown on the mental condition of the youthful killer.

Spectators, jurors and even Judge J. J. Trabucco exhibited a strong emotional reaction when Hickman's recitat of the crime to police officers was read from the witness stand by Herman Cline, chief of detectives, and again when the jackknife used in the slaying and photographs of the dissected body were entered as evidence.

A woman juror took one glance at the photographs as they were passed among the jury and covered her eyes with her hands.

Dickinson Seeking Leader to Conduct Primary Campaign, Report Says.

HILL AND LEVIN ASKED TO ASSUME JOB. CLAIM

Both, However, Are Said to Have "Open Minds"-State Republicans Divided.

The first concrete evidence of definite activity in the East for Lowden has come to light in Maryland. There has been considerable publicity concerning an Eastern campaign in behalf of the former Illinois Governor, and his manager, Clarence Buck. has been frequently in those parts conferring.

Now definite overtures have been made in Maryland, it is learned with a view to entering him in the primary. Thus far the Hoover forces seem to be holding their ground in that State, and holding their ground in that State, and holding their ground in that State, and the Lowden scouts are having difficulty in getting a foothold, but their efforts, which may be fruitful in the end, show a serious intent.

All that is needed, it seems, is a leader. If one can be found, Lowden's name is to be entered to the rather painful chaprin of the regular organization leaders, who do not relish a primary fight and who have lined up behind the Commerce Secretary.

Representative Dickinson, of Jowa, is the mainspring of the Lowden activity He has been trying to get some one to at the hands of a control of the live that the ill-feeling between Weller and Hill has been lessened since that time. The Weller-Tait faction has lined up behind Hoover and so has the Baltimore City, Marchant-Broening group. It would seem, therefore, that if Hill aspires to remain as the leader it must be a faction supporting the Lowden cause.

Republicanism is at present not in such high state of efficiency in Maryland; it has not been since the Weller-Hill feud. Only one of the six members of t. —, Representative Zihlman is a Republican. For that reason it can ill afford to stand any presidential prirrary fights.

Senatorial Nomination Involved.

Senatorial Nomination Involved.

But the question is whether Weller and Hill can be brought together. The former senator is not of the forgiving type, and forgiveness on the part of 'r' involves just now more than an exchange of amenities because there is a senatoria nomination involved. The Republicans will put up a man to oppose Senator Bruce, Democrat, of course and there is reason to believe that senatorial ambitions still beat within the breasts of Weller and Hill.

One thing seems certain and that is that unless Hill can be aligned with the Lowden cause it would seem to be the lost cause in that State. He appears to be the only available bet.

Former Senator W. P. Jackson, Eastern Shore leader, and national committeeman, is remaining neutral because by wants to continue as national com-ern Shore leader, and national commit-teeman, is remaining neutral because he wants to continue as national com-mitteeman. He was with Hill in 1926. In the southern part of the State there is an avowed Lowden booster and an influential one. He is Thomas S. Parran, who, with Sydney Mudd. about controls the southern tier of the State in so far as Republican politics is concerned. Parran would hardly be expected, however, to take up the State-wide leadership for Lowden.

Two Months Remain.

There is still two months for the Lowden campaign to ret organized in the State as primary papers do not have to be filed until April. The candidate, in the meantime, must become an avowed one, however, as the State law provides for the entering of the names only of announced candidates. Incidentally, the Lowden moves in Maryland come to light just as he prepares to enter the Illinois primary. Papers will be filed for him tomorrow Buck has said.

On the other side of the partisan fence, political Washington observed with interest that the Democratic preconvention campaign seemed to be or in full sway. didate, in the meantime, must become

The party's three outstanding candidates were heard from Wednesday night, Gov Smith, Gov. Ritchie and Senator Reed, and in the speech at Richmond of William G. McAdoo there was seen a reopening of the breach that has existed between him and 5mith since 1924.

LEHLBACH RETIREMENT HEARINGS CONCLUDED

79 Members Indorse Measure for Annuity Increase to Civil Service Employes.

30-YEAR CLAUSE LAUDED

The House civil service committee completed its hearings on the various bills to liberalize the civil service retirement law yesterday, and Chairman Lehlbach, of New Jersey, announced that the committee should be ready to report out a bill to the House in about two weeks.

about two weeks.

Sixteen more members of Congress dropped in at the hearing yesterday to indorse the Lehlbach bill, sending the total of members who have done this to 79. The Lehlbach bill would increase the maximum retirement annuity from $1,000 to $1,200, and would make retirement optional with the employe after 30 years of service.

C. R. Hemingway, a retired Government employe, appeared before the committee yesterday to urge favorable action on the Smith bill, which would provide a maximum annuity of $1,500. He urged that money in the retirement fund be invested so as to draw 6 per cent interest.

Labor, urged the committee to take early action on the Lehlbach bill. A. W. Reynolds, secretary of the City Employes Association, also appeared to independ the bill.

LaGuardia Demands 3 FARM LOAN BOARD Drastic Enforcement MEMBERS CONFIRMED

(Associated Press.)

Drastic legisation for prohibition enforcement was demanded in the House yesterday by Representative LaGuardia (Republican), New York, as a means of proving his contention that the eighteenth amendment can not be enforced. A defense of the prohibition law was immediately launched by Representative Garrett, Tennessee, Democratic floor leader, who declared the masses of the American, people never would challenge that legislation.

LaGuardia estimated it would take $150,000,000 to $250,000,000 annually to commence to enforce prohibition, and advocated that presidential candidates should put that proposition up to the people to ascertain if they "want to continue this impossible and disgraceful condition."

PAN-AMERICAN COOPERATION.

The delegates to the Pan-American Conference are finding abundant opportunity for extending the usefulness of the Pan-American Union without projecting it into politics. Agreement has already been reached for the establishment of a geographical institute, to be located at the capital of one of the countries belonging to the union. An organization for the exchange of printed matter and for the preparation of bibliographical matter in the Americas will be created. The proposal looking to the establishment of an institute of agriculture and animal industry is looked upon with favor. The delegates are also disposed to support a plan for the creation of a division in the Pan-American Union which will foster the interests of labor.

In purely political matters the delegates stand opposed to alteration of the structure of the Pan-American Union. New proposals for changes in international law are rejected as fast as they are made. Mr. Hughes pointed out that the Pan-American Conference is not a suitable forum for projecting new laws. The extent of its authority ends with the attempt to codify such law as already exists. For this reason the radical suggestions of the commission of jurists are on their way to the wastebasket. This action by the conference may be construed as a severe rebuke to the jurists who, at their conference in Rio de Janeiro, took it upon themselves to devise new schemes of international law.

BRITISH ARMY ABANDONS LANCE.

Custom and tradition die so hard that it comes in the nature of a minor shock to learn that a British army order has been issued conveying the decision to abolish the lance as a weapon of war. It will not be carried on field training any more, and its retention by lancer regiments will be for ceremonial purposes only. It follows that training in the handling and use of the weapon, except for such ceremonial purposes and occasions, will be discontinued forthwith.

Thus, for all practical purposes, there disappears from the British military service one of the oldest weapons in military history. For a while after the introduction of gunpowder and the consequent decline in value and importance of the armored and mounted knight, the lance, which was really a modification of the spear of more ancient days, ceased to be employed in European warfare. There were temporary revivals, which had at least the merit of saving any number of spirited poems and novels from being absolutely anachronistic; but to the great Napoleon belongs the credit of being the first military leader of modern times to restore the lance as a weapon of prime importance on the battlefield. He had whole lancer regiments, and he used them with telling effect in shock attack and always for the gaining of some specific chjective. The success and the reputation of his lance-armed cavalry became so great that other countries quickly followed suit and reestablished the lance among their weapons.

The change now recorded may be of little importance in itself: it may merely indicate the dropping of an arm that experience has proved to be unfitted to the conditions of modern warfare. There are, however, critics of military affairs who see in it a proof, or at least, an implication, that what is known as the "mechanization" school is making headway in Britain, and that those who favor a heavy reduction in cavalry strengths have scored a

By the British people, however, the change will be deplored, for the lancer regiments are as popular as they are picturesque.

NEW YORK CUTS DOWN CRIME.

The annual report of the police commissioner of New York City proves conclusively that the Baumes laws are having the desired effect upon crime and criminals. In every classification except one, there were fewer crimes in New York during 1927 than during 1926. Murders of citizens resulting from robberies decreased 58 per cent as compared with 1926. and murders of police decreased 44 per cent. There was a decrease of 69 per cent in hold ups involving more than $10,000 and a 52 per cent decrease in those involving between $1,000 and $10,000. Pay roll banditries decreased 64 per cent. The lone increase came in the burglary classification, of which there were 3,380 in 1927 as compared with 3,371 in 1926, due largely, according to the commissioner, to the activities of sneak thieves

Those opposed to the Baumes laws will do well to ponder the report! New York City in 1927 was little different physically from New York City of 1926. Various factors may enter into a decrease in crime, but the magnitude of the decrease in New York City can only be explained by the application of the Baumes

In some respects the Baumes laws, making mandatory life-term imprisonments for fourthtime convicted felons, work hardship. Cases of this sort have received more than ordinary attention and have stirred up considerable sympathy. No doubt modifications can be made which will prevent injustice. Against isolated instances of hardship stands the remarkable record of achievement detailed in the report of the police commissioner. The Baumes laws work. They have cut down crime, thus fulfilling the purpose for which they were enacted.

THE HARMONY CHORUS.

William G. McAdoo contributes to the grand chorus of Democratic harmony a sharp and menacing note, which may or may not be the prelude to a clash of war cymbals and a change of theme from peace to war. He criticizes Gov. Smith for saying that the eighteenth amendment must be enforced as a sacred duty, as a part of the laws of the land. "This position," says Mr. McAdoo, "is entirely misleading and has no justification in law. While it is true that the eighteenth amendment is a part of the laws of every State, it is not self-executing, and requires an enforcement act. The Volstead law is such a statute, but it is not a part of the laws of New York State."

Whereupon Gov. Smith retorts, "The gentleman doesn't know his Constitution," and cites the provision which makes all laws of Congress 'the supreme law of the land."

Mr. McAdoo goes further than criticizing Gov. Smith for lukewarmness in New York State. He insists that no one should be placed in the White House unless he is actually and aggressively dry. Otherwise, he says, the White House would become the fortress of the wets, and the Volstead act would never be enforced. All of which refers directly to Gov. Al Smith and to others whom it may concern.

Mr. McAdoo enjoys the happy freedom of a man who is not a candidate. He is "standing aside," he says, in the 1928 campaign. But a bystander can throw bricks at a parade, and there is no law that prohibits a Democrat from putting a little pep in a harmony chorus. Even if there were such a law, it would not be selfexecuting, and would not be observed by one-tenth of 1 per cent of independent Demo-

Wired radio is about to make its commercial debut. Application has been made to the Radio Commission by a New York company for permission to erect a transmitting station to send three simultaneous programs to different cities, where they will be broadcast by wired radio from the substations of the lighting utility companies over their lines to the homes of listeners. With the exception of important public events, the corporation contemplating erection of the wired radio transmitting station will produce and present all its own program material.

Radio is to receive competition, and it is good thing. Wired radio can not compete with ordinary radio unless it can produce better programs. Primarily radio has an advantage in that a great variety of programs may be received over it at the mere twist of a dial. With wired radio the user must take the program offered, or none at all. Formerly, wired radio might have had an advantage in being able to transmit programs with greater clarity. Great improvement has been made in ordinary radio receiving and transmitting sets of late, however, so that interference and faulty reception is becoming less noticeable.

With the odds in favor of continued popularity for radio, the wired radio company will have to extend itself in the quality of its programs. Radio interests will fight back along similar lines, and the result should be a general improvement in programs and the manner in which they are broadcast.

GOLDEN AGE OF PETROLEUM.

One hears a great deal about petroleum, its uses and by-products, these days. It comes somewhat as a surprise to learn that it was well known and extensively employed since the dawn of history. Thus Colonel the Master of Lempill, speaking before the Royal Aeronautical Society, remarked, "We read in the Bible the account of the building of the Tower of Babel, and learn that 'Slime had they for mortar.' The slime was bitumen."

The speaker further pointed out that Pliny and other ancient writers have referred to the use of "Sicilian oil" for purposes of illumination. The Dead Sea, which in very ancient times was called "the Lake of Asphalt," provided bitumen which the Egyptians used in their embalming processes. Long before the Christian era there was a thriving petroleum industry in the Orient. Earlier even than this, the Chinese and Japanese had sunk oil wells. ventilating the shafts by means of bellows. In Japanese history it is related that "burning water" was discovered in the reign of the Emperor Tenjitenno, some 1,200 years ago. About the year 1600 a Japanese, named Magara, found oil which he subsequently distilled. The product was sold as an illuminant, and it is thought that this was the first instance of an attempt to split up the crude oil into its component parts.

Notwithstanding the Master of Lempill's remarks, it seems safe to assume that the aucients could hardly have been as much at tached to oil as the foregoing would imply Ancient records reveal no Royal Japanese Shell Company or Standard of Israel. On the contrary, competition seems to have been nil; which is one more testimonial to the truth of the legend that there was once, indeed, a Golden Age.

GAS AND LIGHT DEPOSITS.

Public service corporations that supply city residents with gas and electricity generally require their customers to make a deposit as a guarantee that the bills for service will be promptly met. It is the custom on the part of these companies to issue a certificate to the customer setting forth the amount deposited. together with a promise to pay interest, usually at the rate of 5 per cent.

Public service corporations everywhere are permitted to exact a penalty from the consumer for failure to meet his obligation with in ten days after the bill is presented. Some of them send out their bills on the first day of each month. Others have no definite date for the distribution of these reminders. In Washington the gas company renders bills to consumers on the first day of each month, and the consumer knows that he has until the tenth of that month in which to meet his indebtedness. The electric light company, on the other hand, selects any day which suits its conven ience between the 25th and the last day of each period, which makes the ten-day limitation period uncertain. As to the interest due on the deposit, neither corporation considers it obligatory on its part to credit that small amount to the man who is entitled to it, until he closes the account or demands his due.

All savings banks pay compound interest on deposits and there are some consumers of gas and electricity who believe that the corporations which hold public service franchises should be required to do the same; or as an alternative that they should be required periodically to credit the interest on current bills.

Possibly Mr. Blanton, or some other friend of the District, may see the advisability of putting through Congress a bill to require the public service corporations to credit interest upon the deposits of their customers once each year, or at some other stated period.

THE DISTRICT BUDGET.

The stand taken by Senator King, of Utah, against any further increases in the local tax rate meets with universal public approval. But his statement that the "District has gone mad" in spending money is unwarranted. Although the local budget has grown considerably during recent years, it can not be proved that a single dollar has been wasted. has a good government. Certain improvements are desirable, but as a general thing Washington has a government of which the entire country can be proud.

Senator King points out that the cost of the District government is greater than that of several States, including Kansas and Iowa. The statistics bear out the assertion. Kansas, with a population of some 1,325,000, spent during 1926 for operation, maintenance, interest and permanent improvements approximately $17,800,000. Iowa, with a 2,425,000 population, spent for the same purposes $33,-800,000. The District of Columbia, with a population in the neighborhood of 600,000, has a current budget of $40,000,000.

The cost of a State government, however, is not a fair basis of comparison with the cost of municipal government. Kansas and lowa, for instance, maintain no fire departments and operate no water and sewer systems. Even though there are certain types of activity that are more costly to a State than to a city, the fact remains that proportionately there is bound to be a bigger budget for the city. Studies of the cost of American city governments show that the District of Columbia is not extravagantly managed.

Senator King is to be commended for his stand against an increase in the local tax rate. He can help toward this end by demanding that the Government shall pay its share. The $9,000,000 lump sum, uneconomic, unscientific and unfair, should be supplanted with the proportional method of making Federal contribution to the upkeep of the District of Columbia. By placing his influence behind this project, Senator King can guard against an increase in the tax rate, and at the same time make certain that Washington will grow instead of stagnate.

"AULD LANG SYNE."

Whence came the first idea of the sentiment expressed in the immortal song, "Auld Lang Syne?" Apparently no one can say with certainty, according to the Weekly Scotsman.

There are versions to be found in "Watson's Collection" and in "The Tea Table Miscellany." Alan Ramsay, being inspired, likewise tried his hand at the theme. Apparently this last was the variation which caught the ear of Burns, who set down the song in words which are now sung everywhere.

Most of the singers, as the Scotsman dourly observes, mangle the Burns stanzas sadly. "My trusty fiere" becomes "my trusty freen" -a hideous distortion north of the Clyde. "From morning sun till dine" is frequently held to mean from breakfast till dinner time, but quite erroneously, for "dine" properly means twelve o'clock meridian and not an evening repast. Again, those who fancy themselves irresistibly Scotch persist in transforming Burns' own "hand" into "haun," a word no sober Scotsman was ever heard to utter. Finally, the world in general insists upon increasing the number of feet in the last line of the refrain, making it "the days of Auld Lang Syne," whereas Burns himself wrote only "for Auld Lang Syne." But there is some justification for adding these words, for as the melody goes it is quite impossible to cleave to Burns' original phrase. The extra two words

INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL.

The statement by the New York World that prohibition is a failure when "no less than 95,000,000 gallons of industrial alcohol were produced last year" is interesting. - However an "analysis" of this alcohol reveals the fact that the uses of industrial alcohol have immensely increased within very recent times. Thus, last year's consumption for automobile radiators alone is said to have been something like 35,000,000 gallons. A large percentage of the total output was used for other lawful

In an estimate of the various uses to which industrial alcohol has been put, Dr. J. M. Doran, of the Prohibition Bureau, calculates that the maximum diversion for beverage purposes was only 15,000,000 gallons which, of course, is a comparatively small percentage of the total. On the other hand, as has been pointed out, it must not be forgotten that these 15,000,000 gallons, properly diluted, could be converted into approximately 25,000,-000 gallons of gin, whisky, rum and brandy.

While it is undoubtedly true that drinking, by and large, is not so extensive as in years before prohibition, there is, among certain classes in "favored" localities, far greater consumption of alcoholic beverages than in former years. Whatever the increase or decrease of "moonshinery" in the United States. the art of the bootlegger shows no signs of

Setting aside the fact that there are many sections in the South that show no evidence that they are represented in the Government, I should like to call attention to the fact that this Government has insular territory as "contiguous" as Porto Rico or Hawaii. which have no representation and no voice in the Government. When Col. Lindbergh leaves

Thomas today he will leave behind him 60,000 Americans who have no more voice in the Government than have the inhabitants of Washington, Guam. or Samoa. So long as the people of the Virgins are subject to the laws of the United States, why should they be left out in the matter of representation in Congress? It seems to me that the Virgin Islanders have a great deal more to kick about because of the treatment accorded them at the hands of Congress than we of Washington. OLD OBSERVER.

"All Over Town"

"No longer is it necessary to bake your own bread to be sure of its purity and flavor," says Mrs. Frances Northcross at her Post Cooking School

She is proving it with the aid of home-like Bond Bread. There can be no better endorsement of Bond Bread than her use of it in her actual demonstrations before local women. She has been educated to appreciate care and thoroughness in the preparation of things to eat. The bakers of Bond Bread are careful and thorough. This class is a convincing testimonial for

Whole Wheat Biscuits (Rolled)

Use one cup whole wheat flour in place of 1 cup bread flour. Add 1/2 cup Sultana Raisins before adding milk. with or without raising

Lemon or Orange Tea Biscuits (Dropped or Rolled) Stir in 1 teaspoon grated rind before adding milk

Mable Nut Biscuits (Rolled)

Roll dough 1/4 inch thick, spread with 1/2 cup shaved maple sugar mixed with 3 tablespoons Crisco. Roll and cut as for cheese biscuits. Lay in pan, sprinkle maple sugar over each and bake with 1/2 walnut in center.

Peanut Biscuits (Rolled)

Sift 1 tablespoon sugar with dry ingredients. Beat two eggs, add enough milk to make ½ cup. Stir in ½ cup chopped peanuts before adding milk.

WHEN I first saw the Crisco advertisement which said, 'Taste your Cooking Fat," wrote Mrs. W. L. Johnston, "I, being a woman and curious, opened the Crisco can and took a very little upon a spoon. I received such a surprise—and such a pleasant one! No wonder my biscuits, pies and cakes are so much better since I have been using this pleasant, sweet tasting shortening, Crisco."

Have you yourself ever tasted Crisco? Put a little Crisco on the tip of a spoon; on the tip of another a little of any other shortening. Taste first Crisco, then the other fat. Isn't the differ-for both "Drop" and "Rolled" Biscuits 2 cups bread flour 5 teaspoons baking powder 4 tablespoons Crisco 2 cup milk or water (for "drop" biscuits) or 4 cup milk or water (for "rolled" biscuits)

Sift dry ingredients together 3 times. Work Crisco in with fork. Add liquid gradually. FOR "DROP" (Emergency) BISCUITS: drop by spoonfuls on Criscoed baking pan. Brush top of biscuits with melted Crisco or milk. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 10 to 15 minutes.

FOR ROLLED BISCUITS: form dough into shape, roll ½ inch thick, cut. For scone-shaped biscuits, cut squares, then diagonally in half. Brush top of biscuits with melted Crisco or milk. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Makes about 12 biscuits.

To use buttermilk or sour milk beat in ¼ teaspoon soda for each cup of milk. (If milk is very thick, use a little more milk.) Use same amount of baking powder and follow method for either "drop" or "rolled" biscuits.

ALL MEASUREMENTS LEVEL All recipes on this page tested and approved by Good Housekeeping Institute

Cheese Rolls (Rolled) Roll dough 1/4 inch thick. Sprinkle with about 3/4 cup (grated) cheese. Roll as you would jelly roll. Cut slices 3/4 inches thick, lay in Criscoed pan cut side down. Delicious for soups and salads

Delicious Raisin Biscuits

(Rolled)

Sift ½ cup sugar with dry ingredients. Beat one egg, add enough more milk to make ½ cup. Stir in ½ cup chopped raisins before adding milk.

Date Biscuits

Follow recipe for Peanut Biscuits omitting nuts. Roll thin, cut in rounds, put stoned date in center, wet edges, fold over, press together.

Cheese Biscuits (Dropped or Rolled)
Stir in ½ cup grated cheese before adding milk.

INDBERGH TEACHES GEOGRAPHY.

If anything happens to Lindbergh five hundred thousand young girls on this continent will have broken hearts. I know because many have written me the nicest and most wholesome letters telling me how they secretly worship this young man, hold him up as their ideal and pray for his success. As one girl puts it—and she's not alone in her desire to write some one about it: "I must tell some one and so I'll tell you I'd get laughed at if I told it around the house. But some one has to know it or I'll bust."

My Secret. My Secret.

Now I'll tell my secret. I am traveling with Lindbergh every day. I heard him answer his critics when he attended the Mexican bull fight by his remark that he liked the "take off" bull fight at Costa Rica better. I saw him lift the glass of wine when a toast was proposed to him that he might not offend, and I watched the glass still filled as he put it down I see him circle around and around the various eirports, dropping notes to get the crowd back so he wouldn't inj"re his admirers.

An old negro woman asked young Lindbergh when he was barnstorming in the early days of his career: "Boss how much you all charge foah take me up to Haeben and leave me dah?"

I have no doubt this straightforward youth told her that he had no celestial transportation for sale.

THE BEAUTIFUL HAND- is that a glove must not seem as though

ANY a woman, not otherwise beautiful, is known for her beautiful hands—beautiful in shape, beautifully kept. Now sad it is to see such a hand quite ruined in its effectiveness, when the owner of the hand puts on her gloves.

A beautiful hand, today, is judged by other standards than those of our mother's time—for it need not be small and it must not be too plump. A beautiful glove, also, is differently defined, for gloves a generation ago

Paris does not admit the slightest elaboration. A smart glove is, of necessity, a plain glove—not a bit of fancy stitching or a frilly cuff. If economy is an object—it would be far cleverer to buy those plain beige fabric gloves that look so much like suede, than to depend on a glace skin and a darker tone.

sketch. Both dresses were of beige satin, trimmed with cream-colored lace; but, oh, how striking was the difference in the taste of the two young women!

Elizabeth had a dress with a slightly fitted blouse, trimmed with a lace collar that formed a jabot in front. The skirt, which was plain and quite tight, had a gathered apron effect of the same lace as the collar. Her hat was of gold lace, with a feather pompom sticking straight out on one side. The effect was unharmonious, and therefore lacking in smartness.

The chopped-up line caused by the two unrelated bits of lace trimming and the inappropriate gold lace hat gave to the first rule of chic. The blouse of the beige satin dress had a crossed-over effect, and the collar was finished by a scarf effect, with a touch of lace at the ends. Daily Cross-Word Puzzle

Having concluded last week the consideration of Major two and three bids when playing Contract we next come to the question of Minor two and three bids. This is a most difficult subject to discuss because so many different opinions exist concerning it. No particular system can be said to be generally conventional and it seems to be a case in which it is still necessary for each player to reach his own determination, or each table to come to a common understanding. One plan is to make a Minor two bid convey exactly the same meaning as in Auction Bridge, viz, Ace-King-Queen and three others, with the probability of some little side support (although that is not a requisite) and the possibility of further length or strength in the suit bid; but there are many whó do not consider this six-card holding to be important to show in a Minor, and who prefer to give Minor two-bids arbitrary conventional meanings which can be understood only by players to whom the system has been explained. These schemes apply only to a love score; with any partial score, the Minor being as valuable as the Major is at love, it would be bid like a Major. The most novel and effective of these conventions is used to show a biddable two-suiter composed of either two Majors or two Minors; that is, a two-suiter strong enough for an initial bid, in which is they are Diamonds and Clubs. Bidding two-suiter—as smoothly conventional process in Auction—is a difficult problem in Contract: (Copyright, 1928.) The Homemaker

MODISH MITZI

Mitzi has just received a special delivery letter with news of a domestic crisis, but be calm. It isn't her domestic crisis. It belongs to some one else. Mitzi can still enjoy her breakfast, her mble with its cape coat and her hat of felt with the little tucks in the crown. The letter is from a lady whose husband forgot to kiss her.

He forgot to kiss her goodby in the morning and she wants to know about new house frocks immediately! Will Mitzi please tell her of some pretty ones? Mitzi will and this is one of the prettiest she has seen. It is made of rose linen, cut smartly and fitted out with a gilet of white organdie. "It makes all life rose colored," says Mitzi.

This is another. This is white linen with a printed linen bolero. The sketch behind is of a frock of posy printed rayon in delicate spring colors. Mitzi is just about to send these hints to the distracted young wife and she is explaining to the Goafer—really very sympathetic—that she feels her work calls her and she's going home!

THE POST'S DAILY LEGAL RECORD

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1928. COURT OF APPEALS,

Yesterday a friend of mine was groaning over the condition of her walls.

"Will you look, my dear," she said,

"they were just papered two months ago—and look at them now! Those wretched radiators!"

Up behind each radiator in her two front robus ran a long, broad smudge.

"What on earth," she wailed, "is the use of trying to make the place look like anything? And my curtains, too—look at them!"

Most of us can sympathize with her, for most of us have had the same experience. But it is an experience which is no longer necessary. Have you seen the radiator inclosures which the Trico Radiator Cover Co., 1715 Connecticut Avenue, is showing? They are not only a most attractive and useful way in which to hide a very ugly radiator, but they prevent entirely any smudging of the walls and hangings. More than this, you'll find, if you use them, that your heat bill is reduced 10 per cent. heat bill is reduced 10 per cent.

At The Junksnupper Shop—Nine-teenth street just off Dupont Circle, you will find a small Hepplewhite wal-nut dropleaf table—a lovely one—and some spool beds which are being sold at a remarkably low price. There is also an Empire bed which may interest you.

Park Hotel is one of the nicest things that can be done in Washington. Not that I have been the first one to discover that. Evening after evening sees the tables filled with Washington's prettiest butterfiles, apparently enjoying themselves hugely. They have an air of being thoroughly satisfied with themselves and the world at large. And why not? Is there anything more satisfying than a very good dinner and the music of Meyer Davis' orchestra to dance to?

The weekly supper dances have an air of informality which is charming, and the Saturday night dinner dance has always had/a large following. So large, in fact, that you will do well to make reservations ahead. The cabaret changes weekly and is always

There are any number of you who read this column who have particular use for a very lovely valentine. One which is different— one which is essentially you.

Why not, then, a picture of yourself? Underwood & Underwood, 1230 Connecticut Avenue, has, what seems to me, a most appropriate style for this use. It is called a diminuette and somewhat resembles a steel engraving. It is the lovellest and daintiest picture I think I have ever seen—as dainty and lovely as the most exquisitely fragile valentine. Just the size of a valentine, too—one which he can carry wherever he goes. For a slight additional cost, these diminuettes may be colored. I have seen some of these and they are futterly charming. But Valentine's Day is only a week off, so don't hesitate about making your appointment.

Visit the Motor Show

TOU don't have to regard yourself as a prospect to enjoy the automobile show... Go there for enjoyment and instruction... If you like to be informed on the most interesting current developments you have to be posted on motor car design.

Compare any one of these beautiful new creations exhibited in Washington this week with its forerunner of ten years ago. There in a glance you can get a picture of progress in American industry.

The automobile manufacturers and petroleum industry have moved forward together from that recent day when fifty miles was a long trip for a self-propelled vehicle. Just as the motor car has grown more efficient, smoother running and less expensive, so, too, have motor fuels and oils been steadily bettered in quality, while new refining methods have greatly increased the yield from each barrel of crude.

In one important respect there has been no change in the petroleum industry. The Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey continues to lead the field in the quality of its products and the number of satisfied customers.

al to The Washington Post. York, Feb. 2.—The stock list moved irregularly higher again in further fairly active dealings on the Stock Exchange today, and a score or more issues registered net gains of 3 to 5 points, while in a few isolated inances the betterment mounted up to 15 points or so. With 4 per cent call oney and an easier tone in time funds, professional traders did no wor-rying about credit conditions and ught a rather broad variety of stocks, most of them under syndicate domination, which moved up quite briskly. But though the day's movement of rices was studied by some rather violent upturns in a goodly scattering of the specialties, the general market was the specialties, the general market was once more a highly irregular affair. Advances, however, decidedly outnumbered declines where they occurred, and recessions, except in a few cases, were limited to 2 points of less.

Although the total turnover approximated 2,200,000 shares, dealings were retarded in volume no little by the influence on sentiment of this afternoon's meeting of the local Federal Reserve Bank directors. Nevertheless, the case in money, reflective in part of the return to normal channels of funds dispursed earlier in the week in payment of interest and dividends, was encouraging to the more courageous of the pools which reputedly are operating in many stocks.

The advancing of the reserve bank.

pools which reputedly are operating in many stocks.

The advancing of the reserve bank discount rate here from 3½ to 4 percent after the close of the market, following like advances at Chicago and Richmond last week was not wholly unexpected, although maintenance of the lower rate at St. Louis, Boston and Philadelphia, where meetings were held yesterday had a somewhat reassuring effect on speculators nervous about extending commitments in a broad way. It was in the oil group that the only real weakness of the session developed and here, although somewhat sharp decilines carried a number of issues to new low levels, there was considerable reclines carried a number of issues to new low levels, there was considerable recovery in the later trading. Atlantic Refining, although it came back a point from the day's low level, finished 4½ points lower. Phillips Petroleum reduced its net loss to 1½ before the end of the day, and Houston finished 1½ down. Net depreciations in the group otherwise were small.

down. Net depreciations in the group otherwise were small.

Anusement shares, too, were inclined to heaviness and one or two of the metals sild off rather easily notably American Zinc and Lead preferred, which, although it railied nearly 2 points from the day's bottom price, closed 3% net lower on a big volume of transactions.

Office equipment shares provided the sepasational features on the up side with Burroughs Adding Machine gaining 14 points to a new high, and International Business Machines closing the above the previous final quotations Baking stocks, too, were decidedly strong, led by Natoinal Biscuit and several of the utilities soared anew, featured by Detroit Edison, which closed 5, points net higher at a new summit fee: 1928: Montana Power, at one time nearly 6 points higher at a new top and finishing with a net gain of 4 points, and People's Gas, with an appreciation of 3% points, also having attained new virgin territory.

Rails were disposed to quietude and eatinges here for the most part were negligible.

Motor stocks continued mixed, but changes here for the most part were negligible.

Motor stocks continued mixed, but Geheral Motors came suddenly to life after a long period of hibernation and once more assumed its place at the head of the group, closing near the day's best price level and 2½ points net higher. The buying which started the upturn in the premier automobile issue came, recording to most observers from brokers who act frequently for Dirant and his following, and demand attained sufficient momentum to shake up the short interest which has been resting more or less comfortably for a spell. General Motors directors are to meet at the close of the market a week hence, and, while nothing more than the usual quarterly dividend is looked for, the more skeptical bears would rather be out of the stock at that time. that time. Studebaker likewise was advanced studebaker likewise was advanced with more than usual celerity, its net gain being 2½ points. Reo gained 2½ in-active dealings, Chrysier 1½, and Mullins, Murray and others of the body and accessory shares scored substantial wances. White Motors, however, yl and accessory shares scored substantial advances. White Motors, however, yielded a point.

"United States Steel common did father better than in some time with a gain of 1½ points and independent steels pushed forward vigorously, led by Vanadium, which reached new lofty ground and quit 5½ points net higher Superior Steel gained 4½; Crucible, 2½: Republic, 1¾, and so on. Some of the merchandising shares, notably Warren Bros., with a 5-point improvement; one or two of the rubbers, with Goodrich 3½ better, the feature, and various of the banking stocks, were boosted upward in a determined fashion.

"Among the other notewerthy gainers were Case Threshing Machine, 5½ points; United States Industrial Alcohol, 2½; Symington, 2½; Eastman Rodak, 2½; Bayuk Cigars, 3; Commercial Solvents, 3½; Continental Can, 2½; American Can, 1½; International Paper, 2½; Cluett Peabody, 2; By-Produits Coke, 3¾; Gold Dust, 3¾; Laclede Gas, 3½; Long Bell Lumber A, 2½; Brooklyn Edison, 3; American International Corporation, 2½, and Fidelity-Pienix Fire Insurance, 5 points.

Sterling continued strong and French francs showed a slight gain, but Swiss and Dutch exchange continued in supply. Italian rates eased slightly and and Dutch exchange continued in sup-ply. A Wadi in Palestine

T is arid, in most of Palestine. There are long months of drought. Then man and beast can walk on the wadies. Wadies are dried out river beds.

But occasionally, torrential storms break. Down the wadi comes thunderous tides of water. Sometimes unsuspecting Arab families are caught and drowned in these

On other roads, the going is sometimes fair and clear. Financially, a man can carry on at a careless clip following the road of his whims and fancies. But when the storm of hard times breaks, let him look to his safety—unless he has taken due precaution.

Such precautions are the First Mortgage Notes which may be purchased through Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Company. For fifty-eight years these reliable securities have protected thousands of investors against loss. Their present yield is 6%, an especially attractive one when you consider the high margin of safety.

Justice F. 8-5 Choice in Handicap at New Orleans Track.

15 Expected to Start; Track to Be Fast for Classic.

AIR GROUNDS, New Orleans, Feb. 2 (A.P.).—The New Orleans Handicap, at a mile and a sixteenth, the lest stake to be run in the South, I be decided over the old Fair bunds track here tomorrow, and the nagement is confident that a recordaking crowd will be on hand to see thoroughbreds battle for the $70,000 rse. The winner of the event will reve $50,000 and a $2,500 gold cup and a remaining $20,000 will be distribed among the second, third and with horses. Mayor William Hale compson of Chicago will present the mer of the winner with the check and p. Post time is 3:30 p. m. Out of an eligibility list of more than 00 and an entry list of 24, not more ian 15 horses are expected to parade or the rich stake. New Yorkers will ave to depend on Mrs. Payne Whitey's two sterling thoroughbreds to horry off the prize. She has named axon and Peter Peter to cary her silks. Irs. Whitney won the second running f the New Orleans Handleap with furmi, and from present indications has a real good chance to add another take to her credit.

The McLean Stable has a formidable pair in Jock and War Eagle. in tip-top condition, while War by his splendid performance last Saturday when he broke the track record for a mile and a furlong, stepping it in 1:51 1-5.

Justice F is the outstanding favorite t 8 to 5. On his races over the track his winter he has shown himself to be a high-class horse, but he has never wn ability to carry weight and de-t good horses. Pegler Suspects Jack Might See His Share of Tunney Battle in Summer With Naked Eye Despite Poor Vision.

By WESTBROOK PEGLER.

New YORK, Feb. 2.—The news from Miamil Beach is what the cellege boys would call a wet senack, Mr. Tex Rickard having announced the name of one man who won't fight Gene Tunney next summer instead of announcing the names of two prize fighters who will.

Mr. Rickard states that Jack Dempsey have heavision is so badly impaired as to be almost destroyed. Mr. Dempsey can have upwards of $300,000 clear of all expense save income tax for permitting backward next summer. When Mr. Dempsey can not see $300,000 with the naked eye you may be certain that his sigix is very dim.

It is conceivable, however, that there will presently come a statement from Dempsey to the effect that Mr. Rickard saying he was misquoted lines without number before this.

Or it may be that Mr. Dempsey will place himself under the care of a horse and bugg optician who will fit him place himself under the care of a horse and bugg optician who will fit him place himself under the care of a horse and bugg optician who will fit him place himself under the care of a horse and bugg optician who will fit him place himself under the care of a horse and bugg optician who will fit him place himself under the care of a horse and bugg optician who will fit him place himself under the care of a horse and bugg optician who will fit him place himself under the care of a horse and bugg optician who will fit him place himself under the care of a horse and bugg optician who will fit him place himself under the care of a horse and bugg optician who will fit him place himself under the care of a horse and bugg optician who will fit him place himself under the care of a horse and bugg optician who will fit him place himself under the care of a horse and bugg optician who will fit him place himself to Mr. Rickard saying he was misquoted the care of a horse and bugg opticial my how will be a blow to Mr. Rickard may be fore this.

by 20 to 8 Score as Carey Stars.

Displaying their best form of the season, George Washington University's Basketball Team defeated Roanoke College Quintet, of Roanoke, Va., 42 to 33, last night in the H Street Gymnasium. The flashy speed of the Colonials, which characterized their attack throughout the game, was the dominant factor in their victory, while the brilliant passing and especially their accurate shooting, was in bo'd contrast to their mediocre play earlier in the year.

N EW YORK, Feb. 2 (A.P.).—Making his American indoor debut, Dr. Otto Peltzer, German champion, scored a sensational victory over nine American rivals in a 1.000-yard race that featured the Milirose track and field carnival tonight.

Dr. Peltzer was slated originally, to enter a special 800-meter race which, in view of the hand-picked list of opponents, would have afforded little more than a workout for the German holder of the world's half-mile record. At the insistence of the A. A. U., the foreign star entered an open event instead and picked the 1.000-yard race in preference to the half-mile open.

Pocketed and buffeted about as the field of ten got off the marks, Dr. Peltzer's chances of victory appeared remote for the first three laps. The German showed his unfamiliarity with the sharply banked board turns, but finally cut loose with a burst of speed on one of the straightaways and took the lead from Dodge, an Olympic veteran and former national champion.

He kept it over the last circuit of the track in spite of Dodge's desperate challenge, while the crowd was in an uproar. Robinson finished third, 10

Time Maker, in Debut, Outclasses Field in First Race.

AlR GROUNDS, New Orleans, Feb. 2 (A.P.).—W. R. Coe's Herodian carried the colors of the Eastern sportsman to victory in the Chalmette Purse, a 6-furiong sprint, and best offering on the program. The Coe colt was making his second appearance of the local meeting, and the manner in which he won stamps him at his best. Herodian was ridden by Schaefer and the boy rode a very confident race on the son of The Finn. Herodian was an odds-on favorite, paying $3.82 for a $2 ticket. Brilliant landed second money with Medley third.

ticket. Brilliant landed second money, with Medley third.

Arrogant jumped away to a fast lead and attempted to steal the race in the first quarter by opening a wide lead. However, Herodian was under stout restraint around the turn, and when the field straightened out for the run to the wire, Schaefer called on Herodian and the big colt responded gamely, took the lead, but for a fraction of a second he hung and the boy used the whip freely on him. He drew away to win by a length and a half. Brilliant took the place by three lengths from Medley. McLean stable's silks were carried to victory in the first race when Time Maker, making his first appearance under silks, scored in a romp.

The colt was very green, swerving all over the track in the stretch, but he was so much the best that he simply galloped away from his field, winning by two lengths in 1:14 4-5, which was real good considering the track conditions. George Stack was second by a length and a half.

A very poor field of 3-year-olds competed in the second event and it was won by Roxle Weidel, with Jen-nifer second and Sporting Vein third Golden, favorite, was a poor Roxie Weidel closed gamely in stretch, but bumped Kitty Cat, knocking her almost off her stride. Two Regulars of Old Line Five Hurt, May Be Out of Game.

ARYLAND UNIVERSITY'S basketbail squad will put on the finishing touches to its strenuous training period during the week this afternoon in preparation for the annual court battle with the Naval Academy Quintet temorrow afternoon at Annapolis. The game with the Midshipmen is looked upon as one of the most important contests on the Old Liners' schedule, and a victory over the Middles would be at the stock of the Marylanders considerable.

Reports from Maryland state that the Old Liners may enter the N vy fray minus the presence of Donald Adams and Thurston Dean, two regular players, but the athictic authorities at College Park in the past have been inclined to exaggerat; in announcements of this nature.

Adams underwent an operation for an infection on his ear on Tuesday, while Dean is suffering from a heavy cold. These players have not ben out for practice dur-ing the past week.

ing the past week.

"However, there still is a chance that they may play," the report stated.

"Both are the type of players who need very little practice to get on edge, and if it is possible for them to workout this afternoon. Coach Burton Shipley 103 may be able to use them in a part of the Navy game."

If Adams and Dean are unable to start, the Old Liners will take the floor with Capt. Linkous. Evans or Madigan.

ROANOKE TONIGHT

Third Straight Win on Arcadia Floor.

THE Georgetown University Basket-ball Team, which seems to have found its stride during its past two performances, will seek its third straight victory in a game against the Roanoke College Quintet at 8:30 o'clock tonight on the Arcadia court.

The Hilltoppers have been slow to get started this year and only in their recent appearances have they displayed consistency in their general floor play and shooting.

Hilltop Tossers Seek 33 Nations Compete for Famous Trophy This Year.

PARIS, Feb. 2 (AP.).—With a record-oresking list of 33 nations contending for the right to challenge France's tennis supremacy, the official draw for the 1928 Davis cub tournament tomorrow will inaugurate what observers expect to be one of the most brilliant campaigns in court history. The official dignitaries taking part in the caremony of the draw for the European and American zone eliminations will be headed by President Gaston Doumerque.

This year's competition has drawn the entries of every major tennis-playing nation in the world, with France, the first nation to break the Angle-Saxon hold on the famous trophy, standing out to await the survivor of the preliminary play.

JORDAN FORUM ON WMAL

Various compositions, various moods and various nationalities are represented in the selections chosen by the Cities Service Orchestra, under the direction of Rosario Bourdon, to be heard at 8 o'clock tonight from WRC.

Mr. Bourdon, conductor of this popular broadcasting unit, possesses laureis as a cellist as well as an orchestra conductor. He began studying the cello when he was 7 years old and appeared in public two years later. At 11 years he was graduated from the conservatory at Ghent with highest honors. He toured Europe-as a child prodigy and made his debut at Montreal as a lad of fifteen. A little over a year later he joined the Cincinnati Orchestra and in 1904 became cellist in the Philadelphia Orchestra. He preferred conducting and again went to Europe for study. In 1911 he joined the Victor Talking Machine Co. as conductor and arranger.

Among the numbers the orchestra will play during the broadcast are the Ottles Service March, by Bourdon; selection from "Tales of Hoffmann," Offenbach; "La Nuit et L'Amour," Holmes; "Country Dañce." Nevin: Fra Diavolo Overture. Auber, "Little Orey Home in the West," Lohr.

The Citles Service Cavallers will be heard in "By the Old Mill Stream," the spiritual, "Listen to the Lambs," and "Darling Nellie Gray."

"Caprice Viennois" and "Liebestreud."

New York, Feb. 2. (A.P.).—Trading in the bond market today was somewhat more active than in recent sessions and prices continued steady. The action of the Federal Reserra Bank in raising its rediscount rate to 4 from 3½ per cent after the close of the market apparently took bond traders by surprise as there had been a moderate amount of buying based upon expectations that no such action would be taken for about two weeks. Fears of a raise which had been expressed in some stock-market circles earlier in the day apparently has not spread to the bond market.

New York traction issues continued to feature the trading, with rather heavy buying of Interborough and New York Railways liens based upon the appeal of the former for a 7-cent fare. Several high-grade public utility mortages also made good headway, notably Columbia Gas. & Electric 5s, Sierra & San Francisco Power 5s, and Philadelphia Co. 5s. Activity in this group was attributed to the fact that utility bonds recently have been less active than recently have been less active than those in other divisions.

Railroad issues continued rather sluggish, with the exception of a wave of accumulation in the St. Paul group, which developed a few minutes before the close.
A few industrials which are not ordinarily active were bid up a point or more, including Continental Paper & Bag 6½s, Hoe & Co. 6½s, and Murray Body 6½s. Liquid Carbonic 6s and General Asphalt 6s, on the other hand.

were a point or more lower.

Business in the foregin group was distributed over a long list of issues, but no outstanding features developed. Prices were fractionally irregular. Prompt oversubscription was reported of the $30,000,000 Rio de Janeiro 6½s. offered this morning. offered this morning.
United States Government securities were firm with transactions in moderate volume.

Cuyamel Fruit Co.

The Cuyamel Fruit Co. is the world's The Cuyamei Fruit Co. 1s the world's second largest tropcial fruit company. Organized in 1923, this corporation is engaged in cultivating, transporting and marketing bananas, which are raised in Honduras and Nicaragua and sold in the United States and Canada. Through the Cortes Development Co., it raises sugar cane and operates a sugar mill in Honduras, and either directly or through subsidiaries eleven steamships are operated for its own service and general carrying. It owns also a complete railroad and a wireless

For the first haif of 1926 an improvement occurred in operating income over the corresponding period of the previous year, but the third quarter showed a slight decrease, said to be due to the severe drought in Honduras affecting the banana crop, the total result bringing a net income for the year 1926 of 8612,000, which compared with $1,059,000 in 1925.

CAPITALIZATION.

Current data—Under date of December 3, 1927, it was reported that the irrigation project which was started about a year ago on its banana lands in Honduras was about 80 per cent complete. It was stated that the new system would assure an ample supply of water, lack of which hampered operations of the company during the past three or four years and prevented attainment of the full productive capacity.

HOLDINGS OF RESERVE DISCOUNTED BILLS GAIN SAI

$38,200,000 Increase Noted in Banks' Consolidated Statement.

STOCK MARKET IS ACTIVE

By F. W. PATTERSON.

Increases of $38,200,000 in holdings of discounted bills, $30,100,000 in bills bought in open market and $50,000,000 in member bank reserve deposits were revealed in the consolidated statement of condition of Federal Reserve banks on Wednesday, made public yesterday by the Federal Reserve Board. Decreases were shown of $17,000,000 in Tederal Reserves, $7,200,000 in Federal Reserve note circulation. Total bills and securities and $7,900,000 in Federal Reserve note circulation. Total bills and securities were $61,100,000 above the amount held a week ago.

Larger holdings of discounted bills were reported by seven of the reserve banks. The system's holdings of bills bought in open market increased $30,-100,000 and of United States bonds $5,700,000, while holdings of Treasury notes declined $11,200,000 and of certificates of indebtedness $1,800,000. Federal Reserve note circulation was $7,900,000 less than a week ago, increases of $2,500,000 at hew York and $1,200,000 at Boston being more than offset by decreases at nine other reserve banks, the largest decrease, $6,100,000, being reported by the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland.

Stock Market Active.

Washington stocks continued fairly active yesterday, with trading sentiment showing little sign of shifting from the recent favorites. Utilities again provided a large part of the transactions, with three of the stocks reaching new peaks.

Washington Railway & Electric preferred came out with an overnight gain of ½ and a ten-share lot changed hands at 103½. This was followed by a fractional advance to a new high and two lots sold at 103½. Bid price on the common was 463, with none offered. Capital Traction opened at 114%, the fraction representing a gain over Wednesday's close, while the three following sales were recorded at 115, a new high for 1928. Potomac Electric Power 5½ per cent preferred sold unchanged at 108½.

Riggs National Bank advanced a point to 500, with a small lot changing hands at this level. Columbia Sand & Gravel preferred sold in two lots to the extent of 25 shares unchanged at 104.

Utilities were the only securities in which trading was done on the board.

at 104.

Utilities were the only securities in which trading was done on the bond side of the market. Potomac Electric Power 6s sold at 108½; Washington Railway & Electric 4s at 92; Washington Gas Light 6s, series A, at 106½, while the Bs sold at 109½ for the $200 and 109½ for the $2,000.

Phone Company Additions. Phone Company Additions.

Outside plant facilities and central office equipment added to the system of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. in Washington during the twelve months ended December 31, 1927, amounted to $3,391,282, according to a statement covering the operations of the company filed yesterday with the Public Utilities Commission. Retirements for the year were $1,103,483, making net additions for the year $2,287,799.

Operating revenues for the year

Operating revenues for the year amounted to $7.247,802; operating expenses were $5.268,823, making net operating revenues for the year $1,978,-979. Taxes paid during 1927 assignable to operations amounted to $536,583.
Net income for December totaled $59,988, compared with $108,771 in the preceding month and $148,270 in the preceding month and $146,370 in Depreceding month and $146,370 in December, 1926. Operating revenues were $666,664, compared with $628,334 in December, 1926, while operating expenses were $538,302, as against $429,545 in the corresponding month in 1926.

1928 Failures Decrease The January, 1928, returns of failures and liabilities, usually large totals because reflecting year-end balancing of books and seasonal clean-ups, were not as large as those of January last year, and were smaller than in January of five out of the past six years, 1926 along showing smaller totals of failures and liabilities than did the month just ended.

liabilities than did the month just ended.

There were 2,178 failures reported to Bradstreet's for January, which was 2 per cent less than was reported in January, 1927, but 4,5 per cent more than was reported in January, 1926. Compared with January, 1926. Compared with January, 1922, the peak month since the war closed, the decrease in failures is 20 per cent.

Liabilities for January totaled $54,-632,809, which marks a decrease of 27 per cent from January apear ago, an increase of only 3 per cent over January 1926, and a decrease of 55 per cent from January, 1924, the peak January of the past fifteen years.

Francis D. Bartow of J. P. Morgan & Co., has been elected to membership on the board of directors of the Home Life Insurance Co., according to announcement yesterday by H. R. Bryarly & Brother, managers of the Washington office. Mr. Bartow, formerly vice president of the First National Bank, New York, was there associated with the late Francis L. NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, Feb. 2 (A.P.).—A further sharp decline of 1.50 a bale in the cotton market today followed continued liquidation, and local and Southern selling, influenced by relatively easy Liverpool cables and talk of an easier spot situation. March and October contracts broke below the 17-cent level, while May sold off to 17.08, or 30 points from yesterday's final quotation, and closed at 17.10. The general market closed very steady at net declines of 10 to 33 points of the selling influenced by the weakness of Liverpool and Alexandria, and witer. Initial offerings were and the selling influenced by the weakness of Liverpool and Alexandria, and witer. Initial offerings were shown bed by trade buying and covering, but railies to about, or a shade above yesterday's closing quotations, met increased offerings during the afternoon Lowest prices of the day and movement were reached in late trading.

March contracts sold off to 16.87 and October to 16.96, old crop months showning net declines of 27 to 38 points while the new crop was 15 to 19 points up from the lowest on covering. The relative weakness of the old crop positions was attributed by some traders to selling of these months against purchases of the new crops owing to talk of curtailed consumption and reports of an easier tone in the spot situation. Some of the early buying may have been encouraged by complaints of continued droughty conditions in west Texas but later in the day there were rumors of bearish figures on the saies of fertilizer tags for December and January which probably contributed to the decline. Private able said the decline in Liverpool was due to hedge selling, together with London and Manchester liquidation, influenced by a decline in the Egyptian market and pessimistic reports from Manchester where the turnove in cotton bought at relatively cheap brices last season. Port receipts and January which probably contributed to the decline.

Frivate able said the decline in Liverpool was due to heage selling, together with London and Manchester

MEANS TO CONTROL WEIGHT EXPLAINED BY COOKING EXPERT

Mrs. Frances T. Northcross Gives Her Third Lecture at Arcade Auditorium.

2.600 WOMEN HEAR KITCHEN SECRETS TOLD

One More Day of Washington Post's School: Proper Eating Rules Proportions of Form.

The secret of controlling one's weight was explained by Mrs. Frances T. Northcross, cooking expert, at the third lecture and demonstration of The Washington Post cooking school yesterday at the Arcadia auditorium, Fourteenth street and Park road northwest.

The crowd that gathered yesterday was obviously larger than on any of the previous two days. It was estimated that 2,600 women gathered yesterday in the auditorium to hear Mrs. Northcross talk on the important subject of "Weight Control," to take home with them the points she freely gave as to helpful methods in the kitchen, and to watch her demonstrations of new recipes for preparing delicious recipes for preparing delicion

Today is the last day of the school.

Its. Northcross will talk today on Mrs. Northcross will talk today or "Budgeting." She will explain how to start a budget and how to watch for unnecessary leakages in the family pocketbook. The budget, Mrs. Northpocketbook. The Budget, Mrs. North-cross contends, need not necessarily be a burden. It can be made, she says, a simple and natural, in fact, a matter-of-fact, thing. The budget, she says, is necessary to financial safety.

Presentation of Gifts

The last day is, of course, the main day and climax of the school. A Eureka vacuum cleaner, a Hot Point range, a General Electric refrigerator, and a Johnson floor polishing machine will be given away today.

The success of the school has really exceeded all expectations. The housewives in attendance have been loud in their praise of Mrs. Northcross, and have been free in their acknowledgements of benefits received, not only from the demonstrations, but from the lectures and the innumerable helpful hints Mrs. Northcross has given.

Not only that, but they have all fallen in love with Mrs. Northcross, which is no surprise. Mrs. Northcross, which is no surprise. Mrs. Northcross, which is no surprise. Mrs. Northcross likes people, and it is natural that she should be liked in turn.

Her captivating personality, and sympathetic manner have made the school like a family circle, in which givery one feels a kind of partnership, thereby insuring the greatest possible benefit from the lectures and demonstrations for all who attend.

One woman sent Mrs. Northcross a note yesterday declaring that "You are a wonderful cook and a wonderful woman." Nearly all those in attendance have each day gathered on the platform to talk with Mrs. Northcross, to inspect the dishes she has prepared, and to congratulate her. Many have told her they were glad she came under the auspices of The Washington Post.

Questions Freely Answered.

There are two distinctive characteristics about Mrs. Northeross, her patience and broadmindedness. She freely answers all questions asked, whether made orally or in writing, and she will not dispute with any woman who may differ with her about a certain point.

We all have our different ways of doing things, she will say, but you may borrow something from your way, and by putting both our ways together we both may be benefited. This has been her constant attitude, and this is the reason she invites questions, and has tried to make the school like a conversational circle.

In her lecture yesterday, Mrs. Northeross told the women that there is no reason why they should be overweight or underweight. The fact that they are either overweight or underweight, she either overweight or underweight, she said, indicates that the food they ear is out of balance, or that they do not said, is subordinate but nevertheless a necessity in the proper control of one's weight.

Eating Rules Forms.

Eating Rules Forms.

The "form divine" Mrs. Northcross and proper weight is acquired by prudent eating. Likewise, she said, good health is acquired only by such prudent eating as will give proper weight. Mrs. Northcross urged the women to look upon eating as a means of keeping the body in good health and capable of activity. That is its function, she declared, and no other.

The interesting feature of her lecture was that she made no distinction between stout or thin people In fact, she did not particularly address her talk to any one class, but assumed the desirability of controlling one's weight, whether the person's weight be normal. She told the women to weigh dally. Keeping a tab of one's weight, she said, is an incentive to better habits and regulatory eating.

Opposes Quick Reducing.

Mrs. Northcross urged her hearers not to try to reduce too quickly. It is much safer to reduce 30 pounds in 60 days than 15 pounds in 10 days, she said.

Such a little thing as eliminating bread and butter at meal time, doing without cream or sugar in tea or coffee, or avoiding pastries and candies will often show amazing results, she

of the week, of which each day has seen a huge increase in attendance.

The disposition of the hundreds of motorists who have talked "trade" at the 38 booths where passenger cars are exhibited, to accept the fact that low new car prices and high used car prices are irreconcilable, is attributed by exhibitors to the vast amount of educational work done in this sphere during the past twelve months.

Manufacturer and dealer, cooperating in an effort to solve the used car problem, the most acute confronting the industry, apparently are making headway in winning the car owner to a new point of view, they point out.

Buyers Learning Lesson.

"The motor buyer rapidly is learning the lesson that the reputable dealer is following the most legitimate and sound of business tactics when he finists upon a resonable appraisal of used car values," said Rudolph Jose, chairman of the Washington Automotive Trade Association show committee and director of the exposition. "It is one of the most important developments of the past few years in connection with the used car situation."

Revealing greater interest and enthusiasm than ever has been shown at any previous automotive display, thousands of motor lovers of Washington and from nearby Maryland and Virginia suburbs thronged the Auditorium yesterday afternoon and last night to get a view of the 160 models being displayed under 38 different name plates. From the opening of the show at 2 p. m. until it closed at 10:30, the exhibition hall and main floor of the big building at Nineteenth and E streets were jammed.

The Blanton bill, providing a new insurance code for the District of Columbia, was favorably reported to the House District committee yesterday by its subcommittee on insurance and banking.

The provisions of the bill will not apply to marine insurance and fraternal and benevolent insurance, which are covered by special laws, but they will apply to title insurance. Under its terms the commissioner of insurance here would be appointed by the President instead of the District Commissioners, and his bond would be increased from $10,000 to $20,000.

The bill had been held up by a disagreement between Representative Blanton, of Texas, author of the measure, and Representative Underhill, of Massachusetts, chairman of the subcommittee. Blanton said yesterday that he had made 25 or 30 changes at the request of Underhill. Underhill predicted that the bill would save the District many thousands of dollars.
